

Corlanor (ivabradine) basics

Reduces hospitalization due to worsening heart failure. Corlanor (ivabradine) can help keep you out of hospital, but won't reverse your condition or provide any long-term benefit.

What to expect when starting

Here's when people typically experience benefits as well as some possible side effects. Your experience may be different.

* Placebo is a sugar pill with no medicinal benefit.

† Data on frequency of side effects is not available.

Tips from pharmacists

- Take Corlanor (ivabradine) with food.
- Avoid eating or drinking large amounts of grapefruit juice while on this medicine.
- If you're planning on having a baby, let your doctor know.
- Don't start on any new supplements or vitamins without talking to your doctor.

Risks and warnings

Contact your doctor if you experience any of these.

Harm to unborn baby

Corlanor (ivabradine) is dangerous to a fetus or unborn baby. It's important to use effective method of birth control while taking Corlanor (ivabradine). Let your doctor know if you're planning on becoming pregnant.

Heart rhythm problems

Corlanor (ivabradine) can increase your risk for developing a heart rhythm condition called atrial fibrillation. Let your doctor know if you feel lightheaded, have difficulty with breathing, or feel your heart racing with chest pressure.

Slow heartbeat

Corlanor (ivabradine) can slow down your heart rate. Make sure you're monitoring your heart rate and blood pressure. Let your doctor know if you feel dizzy, extremely tired or have low blood pressure.